

Relational Database

Professor Noman Atique

Application Usage Instructions

Asad Ahmed

2020-11-09

This document to show how to use the Quiz Application:

When the program starts, the user is prompted to enter their name.

Once the user enters their name, the program displays their name on the top right-hand corner of the page. Also, the program hides the user input field and displays the first question. A timer is shown on the top of the question. The user has 20 seconds to answer the question. If the time runs out, 0 points are awarded.

Each time the user submits, the answer, the next question appears with the 20 second timer. The user has to choose one of the four multiple choices provided.

Once finished, the user is presented with the result of the test along as the leaderboard of all the people who took the course.